

ASME Delegation visited CSEI

On Jan.13th, Mr. Jon Labrador, managing director, Mr. Paul Lang, director of of Conformity Assessment of ASME, and relevant personnel from ASME Beijing office visited CSEI. Accompanied by relevant staffs from International Cooperation Department and Marterial Research Department, Mr. Liu Sanjiang, president of CSEI and Mr. Li Jun, vice president of CSEI hosted the delegation.

Mr. Liu Sanjiang and Mr. Jon Labrador expressed their supports on the certification program of ASME non-nuclear pressure equipment materials separately. The delegation introduced the progress of this program, drafting of relevant certification standards, certification requirements and schemes and so on. In the end, the two sides reached a consensus on the program's advancing schedule and discussed the next steps.

This material certification program will be executed on voluntary basis of enterprises. And it will help improve the quality of China's pressure equipment, promote the export of domestic materials and pressure equipments, expands the influence of China's materials, products and relevant certifications, which will also help the construction of the "the Belt and Road".
